Mission Action Profile (MAP) in Vietnam

In a country where church leaders often experience the pressure of restricted freedom and even imprisonment, the Mennonite Church in Vietnam is growing. In July 2003 previously separate Mennonite churches joined together to establish one unified conference, the Mennonite Church in Vietnam. Several of these churches began through Mennonite missionary efforts prior to 1974, and other churches have begun through recent church planting work. A large number of these churches, from the central highlands area, are new to the Mennonite church. Pray for those who lead the Mennonite Church in Vietnam and experience the pressure of restricted religious freedoms.

Mennonite Church Canada Witness ministers through the North American Vietnamese Mennonite Fellowship (NAVMF); a group of ten Vietnamese Mennonite churches in Canada and the US.

- Mennonite Church Canada Witness assists with the training of house church leaders engaged in evangelism and church planting.
- Assistance is given for the building of small chapels.
- Funds are being provided to establish a much needed office for the newly established Mennonite Church in Vietnam.
- A cow lending library provides economic development for villagers who borrow cows to start their own herds.
- Mennonite Church Canada Witness is working with other Mennonite agencies to bring attention to the need for more religious freedom and for recognition of the Mennonite Church in Vietnam.

Mennonite Church Canada Witness has committed $7000 to this ministry in Vietnam. Your support to this ministry will enable it to continue.
