

---

Conference-course to focus on changes in culture and the church

Changes in the North American church scene and their significance for leaders will be the focus of a seminar-style course at Associated Mennonite Biblical Seminary June 6-11.

Art McPhee, associate professor of mission and intercultural studies at AMBS, will lead the course, "Leadership Sea Changes in the Emerging Church," June 6-11 at AMBS in Elkhart, Ind. Twelve leaders in several Christian denominations will address issues such as leading urban congregations and small membership congregations, church planting for the 21st century, stained glass meets digital glass, turnaround strategies and communicating in a postmodern environment.

Special note: The first ten pastors to register for audit will receive full-cost scholarships.

More information is available on the AMBS web site:

For a full list of summer offerings:

http://www.ambs.edu/php/academics/aca\_courses\_list\_sum05.php

For a PDF file of details about Leadership Sea Changes in the Emerging Church :

http://www.ambs.edu/Courses56/Sea\_change\_flier.pdf